

Indiana Oath Keepers is a volunteer organization of military, law enforcement, firefighters and first responders, as well as everyday patriotic citizens who pledge the sacred oath to uphold the Constitution of the United States of America, in order to protect the rights and freedoms of all Americans.

Our mission is to support our communities through a balanced approach of education and individual and community preparedness training.

Our goal is to build a statewide network of professional, balanced, caring yet bold, men and women who will educate and empower those around them with an understanding of the Constitution and the importance of obtaining individual and community preparedness skills. To build this network, we begin within the County Regions to unite our communities, and train our members with valuable life skills that will result in a greater protection of Indiana and beyond. This cannot be done without dedicated men and women like you who care about their local community, state and country.

Training in the areas of communications, medical, security, general preparedness and engineering are vital to the success of individuals and their communities. Remember, in an emergency situation, you are your own first responder until help arrives and that will take time.

What will you do until then?

We are looking to recruit any and all level-headed, principled Americans who can unite behind the idea of protecting the rights of all Americans. We have a Code of Conduct that is very important to us, because we want members who can work through differences and maintain a focus of unity, so we can be leaders within our communities.

COMMS

Communications are critical. Each household in America should have a hand-held HAM radio and a license to use it for local communications. As the military saying goes, “if you ain’t got commo, you ain’t got jack.” We can assist you with obtaining your Technician, General or Amateur Extra class license. The higher your class level, the broader your reach.

MEDICAL

Americans should be trained to administer life-saving “Basic First Aid” for injuries ranging from minor to severe. An individual with the most basic medical training can give an injured person a 100% better chance at surviving just by knowing the basics versus not knowing or doing anything.

PREPAREDNESS

You may need to survive on your own after an emergency or disaster. Local officials and relief workers may not reach everyone immediately; leaving you without help for hours or even days. This means you should have your own food, water and other supplies in sufficient quantity to last for a minimum of 72 hours. We will show you how to prepare for such an event.

ENGINEERING

In any emergency, whether it be an ice storm, hurricane, tornado, earthquake, the aftermath of social breakdown or riots, you need shelter, clean water, alternative power, transportation, delivery of supplies, and the ability to deal with fire dangers and hazardous materials.

INDIVIDUAL & COMMUNITY PREPAREDNESS

Building knowledge and learning individual skill-sets in various areas empowers individuals, families and communities to be more self-reliant in the event of a disaster. Training and advanced knowledge in these five areas will ensure that you have a greater impact at your home, business and church, as well as social groups and neighborhood watches.
